IMPROVEMENT AT NEWPORT APPROVED

WEST COAST FILLED FOR SESSION

Women Carry Home Prizes and Notes; to Meet Tomorrow

With Mrs. Margaret S. Lackland presiding charmingly in her 1936 model kitchen-on-the-stage, the Fox-West Coast theater was well filled by housewives of the community this morning for the first day of The Journal's big three-day free cooking school.

Eager to learn what's newest and most "delish" in the field of cookery, Mrs. Lackland's audience listened avidly, took notes, carried home recipes and quantities of prizes, and planned to return to the theater tomorrow and Friday at 9:30 a. m. for more sessions of the cooking school.

Mrs. Lackland's program for the day revolved around a delicious oven dinner, easily and economically prepared, and a special "leap year supper," both of which menus were made on the stage. Later, the food dishes were displayed in the lobby for all the women to see.

Miss Ellen Sweeney, society editor of The Journal, started the school moving by introducing Mayor Fred C. Rowland, official school opener of The Journal, who welcomed the women and several men present, and presented L. O. Burkholder, Cudahy Packing Company public relations director, who in turn introduced Mrs. Lackland, pretty home economist in charge of the school.

Mrs. Lackland worked in a lovely kitchen arranged with an O'Keefe and Merritt de luxe range from the Famous Department store, and other kitchen gadgets in (Please Turn to Page 2, Col. 4)

PENSIONITES JEER PROBE

Financing in Michigan Of Townsend Plan Is Under Scrutiny

BATTLE CREEK, Mich., April 29. (P)—Boos and jeers from an audience of 300 elderly persons interrupted testimony repeatedly today as the congressional investigation into finances of the Townsend Old Age Pension organization moved into the home town of Rep. Verner W. Main.

Main, a Republican, became the first congressman elected on a Townsend plan platform when he swept a victory in a special election last December.

Rep. Clare E. Hoffman (R., Mich.), conducting the investigation, sought to determine why no accounting has been made of contributions by Townsend supporters to Main's campaign, and whether merchants were induced "through intimidation" to agree to contribute to Townsend clubs 2 per cent of the money spent with them by club members.

By questioning Mrs. Pearl Plough, secretary of the Kalamazoo Townsend club, Hoffman brought out that some merchants there had agreed to contribute to Townsend clubs 2 per cent of the money spent with them by club members.

LOS ANGELES, April 29. (P)—Congressman Joseph A. Gavan, New York Democrat, said today evidence concerning financing methods of the Townsend old age pension movement would be given to the department of justice for investigation.

FASCISTS ROLL BY TRUCK TO ADDIS ABABA

15,000 Troops Carried in Motor Van Along Road to Capital

By EDWARD J. NEIL
(Copyright, 1936, by Associated Press)
WITH THE ITALIAN MOTORIZED COLUMN SOUTH OF DES-SYE, Ethiopia, April 18.—(By military plane to Asmara, Eritrea, April 29).—We are "rolling down to Rio" today, only it is to Addis Ababa, on the last lap of this pre-tentious colonial military adventure.

We are packed in trucks, following a great dusty line stretching miles ahead, thundering through dust clouds along the imperial highway and over jolting temporary roads, eating dirt on the way to Emperor Haile Selassie's capital.

There are 15,000 troops in more than 1000 trucks. Other trucks are carrying artillery, motorcycles armed with machine guns, bellowing cattle and squawking chickens to be slaughtered for our food, tons of canned water and flour for bread.

Scenery Magnificent

It is the climax, the lifting of the curtain for the last of the dramatic acts and the scenery is magnificent—all green, grass-covered, tree-clumped hills, with red and yellow lush tropical flowers and birds chirping through the dust clouds.

The troops on foot have already occupied most of the strategic points far in advance of this column toward Addis Ababa, assuring little or no opposition.

With complete indifference, the soldiers are guessing as to the whereabouts of Emperor Haile Selassie, the progress of peace negotiations which are rumored to be underway, and whether the emperor has left Addis Ababa.

"All we know," the highest of officers said, "is that we are going to Addis Ababa, as planned and ordered. Beyond that is not our job."

Hundreds Desert

In the van are footsloggers with a four-day start. The columns of the motor column, and even imperial guards and Arab-inferior guards for policing Addis Ababa, as well as dozens of staff officers.

Hundreds of Ethiopians have enlisted in native Eritrean Askari corps, or are appearing for enlistment, some still in their imperial guard uniforms.

Through an interpreter, I talked with Dedjazmatch Burru Amedie, a short, shaggy man with curling white whiskers rimming his black face and kinky white wool encircling the top of his head.

An important Ethiopian, chief-tain of the Worro Calu country southeast of Dessye, he submitted today with 10,000 riflemen, or originally part of the defenses of the road to Addis Ababa.

Of the 80,000 men originally with Ras Muligeta, he said, at least 40,000 are now dead, either killed during that battle or since then by hostile tribes.

He said Emperor Haile Selassie lost half his original armed forces of a quarter of a million men.

"The only chance we had," he said, "was to get the Italians down into a plain and to overwhelm them with numbers, as we did at Aduwa 40 years ago. We never suspected they had so many as now."

He said Ethiopian followers did not know the whereabouts of Emperor Haile Selassie.

Arthur Crowell, Music Teacher of Orange, Confesses Guilt

A 32-year-old Orange music teacher this afternoon was scheduled to plead guilty in superior court to charges of sexual crimes against five young boys, and ask for immediate sentence, following his arrest and confession last night.

Arthur Crowell, piano teacher and organist, was the fourth to be arrested on morals charges by the sheriff's office during the past week, in a sensational vice case involving two school teachers and a former Boy Scout executive.

Makes Confession

He was arrested yesterday afternoon, and after an hour and a half of questioning made a full confession. He waived his preliminary hearing and appeared before Superior Judge James L. Allen this morning without an attorney.

The court appointed two psychiatrists to examine the man, and to report at his hearing, which will be without jury. Dr. Franklin Van Meter, Norwalk hospital staff member, will represent the state. Consulting physician will be Dr. Edward Huntington Williams of the Los Angeles County hospital.

A telegram received by Sheriff Logan Jackson this morning from Chief Criminal Deputy Merl Dean said that Dean would return to Santa Ana next Tuesday with Alvin Koenig, former Boy Scout commissioner and widely known track star, who will face trial on similar charge. Evidence of 21 boys accusing the 23-year-old Koenig of crimes against him will be amassed against him on his return.

LONDON WINS IN MASS.

Kansas Governor Tops Write-In Vote; F. D. R. Leads in Penn.

By the Associated Press

President Roosevelt rolled up a lead of more than 18 to 1 over Henry E. Breckinridge, New Deal critic, in Pennsylvania's presidential preferential primary yesterday.

The complete "write-in vote in Massachusetts' preferential primary showed Gov. Alf M. Landon received a vote exceeding the combined votes for Senator Borah of Idaho, Herbert Hoover, Col. Frank Knox, Chicago publisher, and Sen. Arthur Vandenberg of Michigan.

Complete returns from Massachusetts' 1929 election precincts gave: Borah, 4342; Hoover, 7214; Knox, 1910; Landon, 76,710; Vandenberg, 2117.

Returns today from 4039 of the 7983 precincts in Pennsylvania gave the President 385,257 and Breckinridge, 20,706.

In the Republican primary, Sen. William E. Borah, unopposed, got 237,134 votes in the 3830 districts reported.

David L. Lawrence, Democratic chairman, said the vote for President Roosevelt was the largest ever cast for a presidential candidate in a Pennsylvania primary.

BONUS, FARM FUNDS ARE INCLUDED

Republican Opposition Overridden by 267 To 93 Ballot

WASHINGTON, April 29. (P)—The administration's $803,000,000 tax bill was passed by the heavily Democratic house today over opposition votes of the Republican minority.

Speaker Byrns announced the vote as 267 to 93.

The bulky measure, designed to raise funds to meet bonus and farm relief costs and embracing a complete revision of the corporate tax system, now goes to the senate, where the finance committee already has begun its consideration.

Tomorrow, Secretary Morgenthau will testify before the committee at its first hearing.

The major feature of the bill was a tax on corporation income graduated on the basis of earnings withheld from distribution to stockholders.

For Bonus and Farms Linked with application of the normal 4 per cent income tax on $25,000,000 additional to help meet President Roosevelt's request for farm and bonus funds.

The vote on passage, cleft along party lines, was a mere formality which sealed the tentative approval given the bill yesterday. With only four changes—all proposed by the ways and means committee in charge of the legislation, the 236-page measure had been hustled through the amendment stage with such speed as to give rise to protests of "unfair" and "steamproller" tactics.

In addition to the revenue to be produced from the new corporate tax plan, $100,000,000 is expected from an 80 per cent "windfall" levy on processors who did not pay AAA processing taxes and $85,000,000 from a new corporation tax on excess profits and capital stock taxes.

Special Concessions The latter ultimately would be repealed, along with the present corporate income tax of 12 1/2 to 15 per cent.

The new corporation rates would range up to 25 per cent for corporations with taxable income of $10,000 or less and up to 42 1/2 per cent for those with larger net earnings.

Special concessions in the form of flat rates have been made for corporations which must use some of their income to retire debts or meet deficits, and those in receivership.

Banks, trust companies and insurance companies, which are required by law to build up reserves to protect depositors, would be omitted from the graduated corporation taxes and would pay a flat 15 per cent of net income.

Early Appropriation for Work Seems Certain, Smith Reports

The National Rivers and Harbors Congress yesterday endorsed the Orange county flood control project and another project for improvements at Newport harbor.

The Journal today received a telegram from Supervisor Willard Smith, at Washington, D. C., announcing this action. Both endorsements were made after recommendations on the previous day by the projects committee of the rivers and harbors congress.

"Appropriation Assured" The Journal a report of the action taken by the congress.

Recalling that the $13,000,000 flood control program has been reported to the floor of the senate by the commerce committee, Mr. Smith said that since William Driver of Arkansas is chairman of both the projects committee and of the rivers and harbors flood control committee of the house of representatives, "it seems assured that an appropriation for this work would receive early consideration in the next congress."

Indorses Improvements The congress indorsed the project for making Newport harbor a federal responsibility, with annual maintenance by the federal government amounting to $15,000 to $25,000 a year. It also indorsed the proposal for construction of additional improvements costing $127,000.

Mr. Smith, who is in Washington to further the flood control project as part of the senate omnibus flood control bill, and to represent this county and its rivers and harbors congress, said evidence was presented to the congress on the large local expenditure for the harbor in the past 15 years. Its increasing importance, due to the scarcity of such harbors on this coast and to rivers improvements by joint federal and county expenditures, also was pointed out, Mr. Smith said.

Aided by Senators "The projects committee submitted it to the conference after careful consideration of the benefits from commerce, yachting and national defense," his wire said.

Mr. Smith expressed appreciation for the courtesies he has received in Washington from the offices of Senator Johnson, Senator McAdoo and Congressman Sam Collier.

"They have given me every assistance possible," he said.

What Project Provides The flood control project provides for a dam on the Santa Ana river and for dams on seven other streams. The federal government, under this bill, would build the dams and the county would provide rights of way and pay damages estimated at $3,500,000.

Mr. Smith spoke of the probability of early passage of the bill by the senate. Since a flood control bill already has been passed by the house of representatives, the senate bill will go to a conference committee of both houses to determine its final form.

Chief of Police Floyd Howard and Detective Lieutenant Charles Wolford were expected to return to Santa Ana today with Rowell M. Marsan, 24, arrested in Cortez, Colo., this week on charges of grand theft.

On April 10, Marsan assertedly purchased a car in Santa Ana, giving a no-fund check in payment. The following day, accompanied by Elmer Fugley whose home is in Trinidad, Colo., Marsan left in the newly-purchased car for Mr. Fugley's home. Trinidad authorities were wired to be on the lookout for Marsan.

Last week the car, purchased from Charles Carruthers with the

HIT-RUN AUTO WRECKS ANOTHER
Santa Ana police yesterday were informed of a hit-and-run case in which a car driven by Frank B. Wilson, 18, of 719 East Fourth street, Santa Ana, was struck at South Flower and Bishop streets Monday night. Mr. Wilson's car was turned over as a result of the crash, and the driver of the other car, described only as being a large black sedan, sped away.

Mr. Wilson was not injured. $310 no-fund check, was recovered by Colorado authorities, and Marsan later was located in Cortez. Both Marsan and the car are being returned to Santa Ana.

The Sidewalk Spectator:

To The Journal—Sheriff Jackson and the supervisors seem to have different ideas about policing some of our unincorporated areas. The Spectator agrees in part with both of them.

It is too bad that the ones who sell the "likker" can't be held responsible for its results. If the acts caused by it could be confined to the places where it was sold, The Spectator would say "Amen" to the supervisors.

But there are innocent, law-abiding citizens who deserve protection. What about them?

Present conditions are deplorable, yet they will continue to exist under the present set-up. We can only hope—and demand—a better way to control this problem, if there is a better way.

We aren't getting what we asked for, are we?
GLENN L. THORNE, The Sidewalk Spectator.

STOCKS GAIN IN SPOTTY RALLIES

By VICTOR EUBANK
NEW YORK, April 29. (AP)—Spotty rallies punctuated today's stock market session, but continued weakness of many of the leaders darkened the picture.

A sharp morning sell-off was followed by a dull leveling movement which brought support of sorts to a few specialties.

American can got up two points and gains of fractions to a point or so near the start of the fourth hour were recorded by Douglas Aircraft, National Biscuit, Du Pont, International Harvester and Cerro de Pasco.

A fall of more than three points in American Telephone was a depressing influence. Others, down as much as two, included U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Allied Chemical, Columbian Carbon, Westinghouse, Western Union, North American, Consolidated Edison, Anaconda, Case, Santa Fe and New York Central.

New York Stocks

NEW YORK, April 29. (AP)—Bearish sentiment strongly dominated the stock market today, bringing losses of 1 to 4 points in many leading issues and larger in a few others.

American Telephone, with a decline of around 7 points, was a conspicuous loser. A number of 1936 lows were made. The closing tone was weak. Transfers approximated 1,850,000 shares. Closing prices:

How Mrs. Lackland Selects Foods

MRS. MARGARET LACKLAND

That the Lackland family appreciates the better things of life is evidenced by Mrs. Margaret Lackland's "choosy" selection of foods for her home pantry. This charming and efficient home economist is successful with her classes because she "practices what she preaches." These foods, bought for her home pantry, are featured in The Journal's cooking school this week.

GRAVE VICTIM SUCCUMBS

Orange county's twenty-third traffic fatality was chalked up at 9:50 a. m. today when Librado Rocha, 53, Garden Grove, succumbed to injuries sustained March 16 in a traffic accident at Harbor Boulevard and Adams street, Costa Mesa. Mr. Rocha had been confined in the county hospital since the day of the accident.

The fatal accident occurred at 6:45 a. m. as Mr. Rocha and three other WPA workers were en route to the scene of a WPA project near Newport Beach. According to records, Mr. Rocha was riding in a car driven by Balente Hernandez, Garden Grove. The other car involved in the collision was driven by Ellery G. Aclair, Huntington Beach.

Others injured in the same accident, believed caused by poor visibility due to an early morning fog, were Camillo Moreno, Johnny Hernandez and Jos Martinez, all of Garden Grove. Coroner Earl Abbey today announced that an inquest will be held. The body is still at Orange county hospital pending an order for removal by the coroner.

JOKE LEADS TO $15,000 SUIT

A practical joke of the virulent type on Jan. 12 in a roadside cafe outside Santa Ana caused $15,000 damages to Wilma J. Potter, Santa Ana Junior college co-ed, she claims. A damage action started yesterday in superior court.

Miss Potter says that as she was about to sit down at table on the night in question, Robert Smith, a member of her party, pulled her chair from beneath her, causing her to sit with "great force" on the concrete floor.

This caused extensive injury to her spine and leg, she claims. For the injury to her spine she asks $10,000; for being kept from school for the duration of this year she asks $5000, and for special damages she asks $275.

She is being represented in her action by Maxwell Burke, Santa Ana attorney.

USE BUT FIRST OIL PRESSING

The first pressing produces only 25 per cent of olive oil, but that's all that is good enough to be sold under the Pompeian label. Pompeian is pure and unadulterated, and comes to you just as it flows from the olive.

Twice Pompeian has been awarded gold medals in international competition. Pompeian also has been awarded a gold medal of approval.

It is recommended by more than 9000 American physicians for kitchen and medical use.

After a two-year absence from George Dunton's, R. D. Shipp has returned to this concern. During the past two years Mr. Shipp has been in business in Los Angeles. He is mighty glad to be associated again with Dunton's, and to be back among his many old friends.

C. J. Skirvin recently added a new member to his organization. He is John Richardson, who will have charge of the re-treading department. Many an extra mile is offered the motorist on retreads by using the new super treads in the form of General tread stock. With vacations coming, this offers an economical way for car owners to have their tires made almost like new, says Mr. Skirvin.

R. C. Harness, manager of the Western Auto Supply store in Santa Ana, has good news for fishermen. The store will continue its weekly fishing forecast, giving the latest dope on fishing conditions at all important lakes and streams in the Southland. This is the fourth year that this broadcast has been made possible by Western Auto Supply and comes on over radio station KFVB and KFOK at 7:45 to 8 p. m. Thursdays.

ONE-WAY LANES FOR HIGHWAY

A divided highway similar to the stretch on Torrey Pines mesa will be established on coast route 101 between Orange county line, just below San Clemente, and Las Flores underpass in San Diego county.

This separation of road, each side admitting traffic in only one direction, is an important step toward increased safety, observes the Automobile Club of Southern California. Plans have been approved, and work of dividing the lanes will begin this summer when the highway is realigned and repaved.

SECOND GEAR ON GRADE

Second gear is recommended for travel on the downgrade when traffic is heavy and moving slowly. Many drivers have the car in high gear despite the necessity for frequent stopping. Second gear is better because it offers more effective braking and saves brake lining.

FINGERPRINT LAW PUSHED BY INGELS

STATE MOTOR HEAD SEEKS MEASURE

Will Urge Legislation Requiring Record of Drivers in State

SACRAMENTO, April 29 (AP).—A drive to have a state law making fingerprinting of all motorcar operators compulsory is to be made in the next legislature session by Ray Ingels, director of the state department of motor vehicles.

A bill of this nature failed to pass at the 1935 session, but Ingels believes the voluntary system of fingerprints at present in force has gained friends who will work for compulsory fingerprinting.

Place for Prints

The new licenses for operators contain spaces for fingerprinting the drivers and little or no opposition to fingerprinting is experienced by the motor vehicle department.

"We find," said Ingels, "the average motorist thinks it is a good idea and readily cooperates."

Ingels declared fingerprinting offers the only positive method of identification of the individual, and this identification may prove of as much benefit to the motorist as it is to the state.

He said his department is taking positive steps to bar incompetent and habitually careless motorists from the highways, and the need for some positive identification is becoming increasingly important.

Drivers Evade Law

He pointed out persons denied operator's licenses in one place too frequently go to the next city or county, where they are not known, and obtain a license. "Fingerprinting," he asserted, "would prevent this. The only person who need fear being fingerprinted is the lawbreaker and to all others it would work to the advantage of the individual."

"I believe if fingerprinting were made universal you would see known criminals give California a wide berth."

New Wide Bridge Near Orange Show

Construction has been initiated on a new Colton avenue bridge across Lytle creek as a $70,503 WPA project. Southwest of the National Orange show grounds, in San Bernardino, this safer, wider span, 180 feet long, was sponsored jointly by the city and county of San Bernardino. It will replace an old steel and wood structure that has been a traffic hazard because it is narrower than Colton avenue pavement.

RUBBER ON THE GO

The motor vehicle industry in the United States last year consumed 885 million pounds of crude rubber, according to figures received by the Automobile Club of Southern California.

OWENS VALLEY CUTOFF

Construction on the Big Pine-Kearney Hot Springs cutoff on Owens Valley state highway is progressing rapidly, notes the Automobile Club of Southern California.

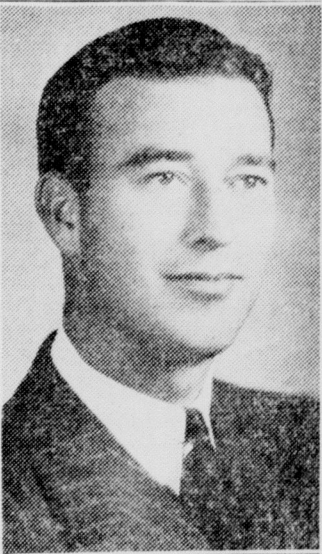

Scientists were attracted to a sand pit near Lehigh, Kan., by discovery of dozens of animal skeletons.

Sally Rand, Dressed, Visits Shell Travel Building

Sally Rand of fan-dance fame, drops in on a fellow-Chicagoan, Miss Louise Flynn, attendant at the Giant Shell travel building, California Pacific International Exposition in San Diego. The Chicago tete-a-tete produced the most unusual of questions asked daily. "Where can I get a bubble?" queried Sally. Retorted Louise Flynn, always quick with answers: "You don't need a bubble; you're just bubbling over with 'IT.'" Which is a good description of Sally's next dance costume.

MARVIN BROWN PROMOTED

MARVIN K. BROWN

Marvin K. Brown, well known to the automobile fraternity, and who for the past two years has been connected with the Knox Bros. agency in the capacity of sales manager of their used cars, has been promoted to sales manager of the new Oldsmobile department. Mr. Brown also will still retain the general supervision of the used car department, ably assisted by a corps of trained and efficient assistants.

Before joining the Knox Bros. sales staff here, Mr. Brown was associated with the Don Lee corporation in Los Angeles, Cadillac dealers. "In promoting Mr. Brown, I felt that due to his many years of experience, backed by his success in the used car department of our business, that our organization will be greatly strengthened," said Claude O. Knox, general manager of the Santa Ana agency. "His knowledge of car values and his friendly and courteous personality, make him one who we feel will be of great value to us, and it is indeed a pleasure to be able to show our high appreciation for services rendered."

LICENSE REVOKING CUTS CAR MISHAPS

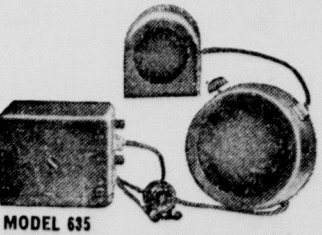

RALEIGH, N. C., April 29 (AP).—State officials say that revocation of automobile drivers' licenses is proving effective in curbing highway accidents.

Since the drivers' license law went into effect last November 1, authorities of the highway division of the state department of revenue, disclose that 2290 licenses have been recalled.

Principal offense resulting in revocation, they say, has been drunken driving.

Entire Nation Depends on Its Trucks and Automobiles

By GARRY GARROWAY

(Manager Dodge Truck Department of L. D. Coffing Co.)

"Dependability" is a word coined by a pioneer automobile manufacturer to name and define an intangible quality that they built into their product, yet no word so aptly expresses the feeling of confidence that the general public holds for the automobile and truck industry.

Through the years the attitude of men and women have changed from one of distrust to one of security. Families now start on long trips across the United States without giving their automobile a thought save that of putting in gas and oil. Men drive into wild, desolate, inaccessible regions with utmost confidence in their cars. The question of mechanical failure of any part of their automobile never enters their heads. They have learned from experience that, barring accident, their cars will bring them back.

Engineers have not only built a product that is trouble proof, but also fool proof. The mental and physical exertion necessary to drive an automobile have been reduced to the absolute minimum, and worry and care have been replaced by confidence and trust.

It has often been said that, if for some reason all automobiles and trucks were unable to operate, the people of the United States would starve. This is a startling fact, but none the less true. So much of our every day activity is dependent on our automobiles, and so many of the necessities of our very existence are brought to us daily by trucks that, were they to stop functioning, our lives and habits would undergo a complete change.

Never in the history of the world has an industry's product so influenced the lives and habits of people, and never before has the manufacture, sale and servicing of any product given as much employment and created so many opportunities for small business enterprises as the automobile and truck industry.

Suppose for example that all places of business in Santa Ana, who depend on the sale and servicing of automobiles and trucks, were to close. A goodly portion of our population would be idle, and a large percentage of our stores and shops would be vacant. Looking at the picture as it applies to the country as a whole, you realize the extent to which we depend on our automobile.

Dependability is more than confidence, more than security, it is a nation's tribute to the brains and genius of a great industry.

Horn Tooting at Night in Capital Will Be Taboo

WASHINGTON, April 29 (AP).—The sounds of congressmen snoring may soon be the only noise that breaks the stillness of Washington nights.

As part of an anti-noise campaign, the District of Columbia commissioners plan to approve a regulation outlawing all blowing of auto horns between 11 p. m. and 7 a. m. Anyone who toots for any reason whatever will be liable to a $300 fine or 10 days in jail.

Red Tags Ruled Okeh by Counsel

LAS VEGAS, April 29 (AP).—Everett W. Mattoon, county counsel, has ruled that red tags for reckless auto drivers are legal.

He declared in an opinion to Supervisor Gordon L. McDonough that such punishment was within the discretion of the traffic court.

CATO PROBES DEATH TOLL

VISALIA, April 29 (AP).—E. Raymond Cato, chief of the California Highway Patrol, came here last week to investigate the heavy Tulare county traffic death toll.

Traffic deaths mounted to 22 with the death of four persons killed in two accidents last week. He will seek cooperation of all enforcement and judicial agencies to halt the increase.

Tulare, Riverside and Los Angeles counties have had records in traffic deaths, Cato said, with speed and liquor as the major causes. Enforcement and cooperation of courts and the public are the remedies, he added.

McDonough had suggested placing the red tags on the license plates of convicted motorists as a means of reducing accidents. He contended the tags would shame drivers into being more careful.

WILLYS 77 IN RECORD RUN

Adding to its rapidly growing list of sensational performances in speed, endurance and economy, a stock model Willys 77 is credited with having traveled 1810 miles in a single day at Muroc Dry Lake, California, scene of many speed trials, according to advice received by Willys Santa Ana Motor company, local Willys dealers.

With only a few brief stops to refuel, the speed averaged for the elapsed time was 75.41 miles per hour, the accuracy being certified by Western Union, which acted as observers of the event.

A Willys 77, it is stated, has also been driven in a 24-hour economy run and averaged, under official observation, 36.03 miles per gallon of gasoline. In the recent Gilmore-Yosemite run it is recalled that a Willys 77 won first place in its class and used less gasoline than any one of all the cars entered. Another Willys 77 won a cup for the fastest time, being the last car to leave the starting line and the first car to finish.

"While Willys 77 is the lowest priced car on the American market, its many outstanding endurance records prove it is most dependable transportation," says C. B. Bellows of Willys Santa Ana Motor company.

Paving of American avenue in Long Beach, a principal and heavily used link with Los Angeles, was begun this week, reports the Automobile Club of Southern California. The improvement is a $640,000 project under the WPA. It was announced that the WPA portion of the work will be completed in about five months, less than half scheduled time. Seven and a half-inch surfacing is being laid in 15-foot strips to make an 84-foot width eventually.

Sudden Thought

Top Three for Derby

Help Wanted

Sudden thought: Santa Ana's Stars will take the National League opener from Huntington Beach one week from Friday night.

Such a prediction at once makes me target for a lot of "Oh, yeah?" cracks and probably will bring forth a strong pooh-pooh from Huntington Beach's Joe Rodgers, who believes his championship Oilers are set for a runaway race and their third straight title.

We can't help it if Joe rollers, others laugh and toss verbal razberries. We get a hunch and we make a guess. If we don't pamper our hunches they stop coming. From afar it appears the Oilers may be a trifle stale—and their caravan into the north isn't going to help—or overtrained. And George Lackey appears to be rounding the Stars into shape gradually.

We've been twitted about naming Brevity, Hollywood and Grand Slam as our top three horses for Saturday's Kentucky derby. Brevity we picked 'way last winter and we're not deserting him now, although we admit the Brevity bandwagon is becoming mighty mighty at the point. Hollywood is out of the classic now, and we can't help that.

Grand Slam ran a nice third yesterday and we stick to that nag. Now how about a selection to take the place of Hollywood. Wish we could get excited about Indian Broom, especially since his record is of the best and his workouts on the Churchill Downs strip are considerably better. He burns up the track there every day and is getting more followers right along. A stack of smart money is following him.

But, for reasons more sentimental than logical, there's a nag we place ahead of Indian Broom on our top-three list. It's Granville, son of Gallant Fox and half brother of the noblest runner of them all—Omaha.

This department adds its protests to that of other writers who weep at the announcement that Los Angeles may have a summer fight between Jack Sharkey—honest—and Phil Brubaker. Such a fudge contest would cripple boxing in the Southland, which is at a healthy stage just now. Sharkey was never liked out this way and right now he couldn't fight his way out of a cobweb. Brubaker's stock has gone down and smart guys say it will go down again after his rematch with King Levinsky.

New York scribes are filling their columns with the opinion that gallant little Jimmy McLarin isn't taking much professional interest in his coming (May 8) battle with Tony Canzoneri.

"Bored With Boxing" is the caption they're hanging on Jimmy, and they make no bones about stating the Irishman's interest in the one last battle is purely mercenary.

A dull, gray day this. And little pleasure in looking back on a nocturnal fishing expedition. Nothing but seaweed and an indifferent moon. If anyone—Lying Scotsman excepted—hears of a place where surf fish really are being caught, just whisper the info and we'll lead the rush. We gotta do something about a brand new fishing pond that so far has landed one lone yellowfin—or tomcod.

SWIM TITLES UP
SAN FRANCISCO, April 29. (AP) National Junior A. A. U. titles will be decided here tonight in diving and swimming events, bringing out some of the leading men and women competitors on the Coast.

'Scotsman' Mortified By Gaines But Sticks to Story

By LYNN SCOTSMAN, JR.

Am I mortified, or am I mortified? Last week I reported that surf fish were biting to beat the band down at Serra and San Clemente. One sucker bit, bearing the name of Brick Gaines. He came rushing down, bought some bait and was off to San Clemente after the surf fish. But here's where he made his big mistake, he actually went fishing in San Clemente. Imagine that, going fishing exactly where I told him to go. He should've known better. It is a standing rule of all fishermen to go to just the opposite place that any fishing tackle salesman tells them to go. Then you'll be sure and catch fish. Just do the opposite thing. It's an absolute guarantee. But to get back to the original story, he blew up all over everything. I wonder how many thousands of fishermen do the same thing by going fishing where I tell 'em to go. By the way, after much effort on my part, I've finally been able to get hold of a "d" called the fish hawk. I bet he's the only one in captivity. He brings you right to where the fish are. If you want

SAINTS EARN 3-0 WIN AT EXCELSIOR

Clyde Cook's Nine Goes To Brea to Prepare For S. D. Hillers

Excelsior stands for "ever upward," but Excelsior High School did not live up to its name on home soil yesterday when Santa Ana's Saints, with a makeshift lineup, easily blanked the little school's varsity baseball club, 3 to 0.

Coach Clyde Cook has arranged a return game with the Excelsior nine here Tuesday, but in this engagement he will employ those Saints—few as they are—who will be eligible next year.

Santa Ana's 1936 season officially ends in a Coast league conflict with San Diego's Hillers here Friday afternoon. The Saints were at Brea-Orinda today.

Jimmy Wilkins and Norman Wyckoff divided pitching duties for the local prep—Wilkins traveling five innings and giving up two hits, Wyckoff yielding two in the sixth and seventh.

Gene O'Campo reached first on a fielder's choice, third on Erwin Youel's fly to left for the winning run in the third. Harvey Hemphill's single scored O'Campo again in the fifth. Wyckoff singled, and scampered home on Catcher Duane Teel's two-bagger in the sixth.

ALL LIKE BREVITY IN LOUISVILLE, KY.

NED REIGH IS DOUBTFUL STARTER

By ORLO ROBERTSON
LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 29. (AP) A low-headed boy, neatly dressed in a riding habit, lolled outside one of Churchill Downs' green-painted barns. Occasionally his eyes wandered over to a nearby paddock where another boy, not so neatly attired, was cooling out a horse.

Scores of men walked past, paying little or no heed to the boy, except to wish him "good morning." The horse attracted even less attention as he walked round and round the small circle, almost like a robot.

Wright And Brevity
Suddenly a broad smile broke the boy's countenance as if he was dreaming. Then with a sigh of contentment, he settled back into his chair with an air that said—all's right with the world.

And content he might well be for the boy was Wayne Wright, the horse, J. E. Widener's Brevity. Together they form the feared combination for the 62nd running of the Kentucky Derby Saturday.

Brevity is feared because of his great speed, Wright because he not only ranks among the leading riders, but he's on a winning streak. Jockeys say that when a rider is hot, he's mighty tough to stop. Already the 21-year-old Rexburg, Idaho, has won three stakes and more than $150,000 this year. He took the Santa Anita handicap with Top Row, the Santa Anita derby with Mrs. Silas B. Mason's He Did, and the Florida Derby with Brevity.

"Why shouldn't I feel confident?" asked Wright. "He's beaten everything that's opposed him this year and in a manner that left little to be desired."

That just about tells the belief of horsemen and laymen alike, as they thronged into the city today. Except for a scattered few, they went no farther than Brevity when asked to name their selection for the derby.

All Like Brevity
The barber extolled the merits of the big bay as we lay in his chair. The colored bootblack on the corner informed us that the Widener flash had won five of his starts and would run away from those other "nags."

A waitress paused long enough from feeding the hungry mob to give us a confidential tip. It was Brevity.

Mrs. Silas B. Mason's He Did stepped into the picture more seriously by whipping Mrs. C. C. Mars' Sangreal and Grand Slam from the Bonar stable in the final derby trial of one mile. W. S. Kilmer's Ned Reigh was listed as a doubtful starter as the result of developing a high fever following his trip from New York.

Steele Wins, Eyes Bout for Title

SEATTLE, April 29. (AP)—Freddie Steele, 157, Tacoma, introduced at ringside as the "world's uncrowned middleweight champion," lived up to the imaginary title last night with a convincing 10-round victory over Tony Fisher, 160, rugged Newark, N. J., battler.

And today Steele and his retainer, manager, Dave Miller, awaited some indication from the Babe Risko camp as to when a title bout may be arranged. Steele whipped Risko in 10 rounds here recently. Risko is still on the Coast.

Steele won every round last night, knocking Fisher down three times, the first trips to the canvas the Newark boy ever took.

ARIZONANS WIN

WEBER SAYS BREAD NOT FATTENING

That bread is nearly 100 per cent digestible is the discovery of leading universities, says Dale Weber of the Weber Baking Company.

"Bread itself is not fattening; in fact it is helpful in reducing diets," Mr. Weber affirms. And, listing its scientifically established benefits to the human body, he adds that "Our bread is baked so that more of the vital elements of milk are included in the loaf. This makes it especially good for eliminating deficiencies of milk elements so often lacking in the diet."

Weber's bread is just as good as its delicious smell.

WELCH'S USE BEST GRAPE

Years of study and testing have placed the Concord grape in the front rank as best suited for grape juice.

It is from these fine grapes that Welch's Grape Juice is prepared, so that you can chill it in your refrigerator and serve it as a breakfast or cocktail fruit juice. Only the clear, fresh juice is preserved for your pleasure.

Grape juice is particularly good for the mal-nourished child.

A-1 SAUCE AID TO COOKING

Back in the reign of George IV of England was received the name of that tantalizingly good "A-1" sauce. For more than a century this sauce has enjoyed great popularity.

Its uses on the table and in the kitchen are almost unlimited, for it goes into anything in the meat, vegetable, cocktail, soup or chowchow category.

Recipes With Pompeian Olive Oil Are Given

FAMOUS TASTE THRILLERS

Three much desired dressings well worthy their places in your recipe file.

Here are three world-recognized recipes that call for the finest, most subtly-flavored olive oil, French, Italian and Russian dressings that put a spark of joy in salads. Each is a delight in its own way and unfailing in assuring applause.

French Dressing
1 tsp. salt 1/4 cup lemon juice
1/2 tsp. paprika 1/2 cup vinegar
1 tsp. sugar 1/2 cup Pompeian olive oil

Method: Mix salt, paprika and sugar together. Add lemon juice or vinegar and Pompeian olive oil, alternately, beating constantly. Or, place all ingredients in a cruet and shake well.

Italian Dressing
1 tsp. tomato 1/2 tsp. salt
1 tsp. catsup 1/2 cup mustard
1/2 tsp. paprika 4 tsp. Pompeian
1/2 tsp. onion juice 1/2 cup Olive Oil
1 tsp. vinegar

Method: Mix dry ingredients thoroughly, add tomato catsup, onion juice. Slowly mix in Pompeian olive oil and vinegar, stirring constantly.

Russian Dressing
First, prepare "Pompeian mayonnaise" this way:
1 tsp. dry mustard Dash cayenne
1/2 tsp. salt 3 tsp. vinegar
1 tsp. sugar 1 cup Pompeian olive oil
1 egg yolk

Method: Mix dry ingredients and add egg yolk. Beat well and gradually add Pompeian olive oil drop by drop until dressing begins to thicken. Thin with vinegar, and add more oil, alternating in this manner until vinegar and oil are used up. The egg white may then be added, beaten stiff, to make a larger quantity.

Then add:
1 hard boiled egg
1 tsp. Chili Sauce
1 tsp. chopped green pepper—and mix well.

IT'S BOYS' DAY AT LIBRARY

Tomorrow is designated in Boys' week as Boys' day in the library. During the past several months a number of boys' books have been placed in the Junior department of the Santa Ana public library. From this group a few outstanding titles will be listed.

Suggested by a number of librarians as a candidate for the Newbery medal for the outstanding children's book of the past year, "Honk the Moose" by Phil Strong, and illustrated by Kurt Wiese, is a splendid book for small boys. It depicts a genuine small town, with its friendly people, its community center—the lively stable—its close-huddled homes and streets and, most of all, its small boys.

A well-deserved popularity has attended the book, "The Tale of Two Horses" by A. F. Tschiffely. Gato and Mancha were two horses who went on one of the most thrilling journeys any horses ever took. From Patagonia, their homeland on the tip of South America, they traveled 10,000 miles, all the way to Washington, D. C. With their master, A. F. Tschiffely, they rode across sun-scorched desert sands in Peru, over the snow and rugged peaks of the Andes and through dense Mexican jungles. They swam rivers full of crocodiles and were attacked by vampire bats and all kinds of stinging insects. For two years and a half they had exciting adventures.

Other popular books for small boys are "Steamboat Billy" by Sanford Tousey, "Young Cowboy" by Will James, "Skookum and Sandy" by Richard Bennett, "Wait for William" by Marjorie Flack, "Here Comes Peter" by Verna Hills, and the group by Maud and

Miska Petersham, "The Story-Book of Wheels," "Ships," "Trains" and "Aircraft."

For older boys are the books, "In the Saddle With Uncle Bill" by Will James, "Our Little Ethiopian Cousin" by Elizabeth Borton,

"Elephants" by W. W. Robinson, "Shaggy" by Russell Gordon Carter, "Bob Flame, Rocky Mountain Ranger" by Dorr G. Yeager, "The Cave Mystery" by S. S. Smith, "Back to Treasure Island" by H. A. Calahan, "Familiar Birds of the Pacific Southwest" by Florence V. Dickey, "West Coast Shells" by Josiah Keep and revised by Joshua L. Bailey, Jr., and "Young America's Story of Franklin D. Roosevelt, Man of Action" by Sadyebeth and Anson Lowitz.

SUPERVISORS ORDER ALL CONSTABLES ANSWERABLE TO BOARD

REPORTS FOR EACH MONTH DEMANDED

Sheriff's Request for More Help Leads to Latest Policy

Repercussions from the speech of Sheriff Logan Jackson before the board of supervisors yesterday morning in which he demanded more adequate policing for the unincorporated areas of Orange county were heard yesterday afternoon as the board adopted an order making county constables answerable to the supervisors.

The order stipulates that the constabulary of the county submit a monthly report to the board on mileage covered, calls and investigations made, and all arrests made during the month.

Calls Increase
The order was passed after Sheriff Jackson during the morning session had told the board he was unable to give unincorporated areas the policing it warranted, and in which he said calls for help had greatly increased during the past year, due, he felt, to open and unrestricted selling of liquor and the increase of dance halls and roadside cafes.

It was brought out that constables throughout the county were unable to cope with the situation, and were answerable only to their constituents. The board's move, it was felt, would tend to allow a closer check on their work, and might possibly develop information valuable in the fight on rowdism and petty thievery.

Sheriff Jackson will be requested to make similar reports to the board each month, Chairman John Mitchell indicated, in an effort to coordinate the work of law enforcement and property protection throughout the county.

Patrol Insufficient
Sheriff Jackson told the board he had at present a fixed fruit patrol of three cars, and one criminal deputy's car at work patrolling the county unincorporated districts, which he felt were insufficient.

The board at next week's meeting also will discuss a proposed amendment to the ordinance governing the duties of constables, which will provide that whenever a constable is away from his duties for a day he shall appoint a deputy to take his place during his absence.

ON THE POLITICAL FRONT

DANIEL C. ROOPER

By The Associated Press
Secretary of Commerce Daniel C. Roper is the recognized political veteran of President Roosevelt's cabinet.

For the past year, with the latest production statistics on his tongue's end, he smilingly has told bankers, manufacturers and merchants that the country is "well on the road to complete business recovery."

His precise way of speaking and conservative manner of championing the "New Deal" have made him the "New Deal's" foremost missionary among business groups. He will no doubt, continue to spread his message of peace and goodwill in the industrial centers as the campaign warms up.

Since he left the South Carolina legislature in 1894 he has moved shuttle-like among government departments in Washington, picking up experience, garnering college degrees, board memberships and club affiliations.

Jerome Going To Relief Meet
William C. Jerome, county supervisor from Santa Ana, was to attend the meeting of the state chamber of commerce on direct relief problems in San Francisco today and Thursday as the representative of the board of supervisors.

He was named official representative of the board Tuesday despite a virtually unanimous opinion by members that the value of direct relief was greatly overestimated, and that work projects of lasting value were of far greater importance.

Supervisor N. E. West, who originally objected to the state chamber meeting as being "academic," and to direct relief as being overdone, seconded the proposal to send Jerome as official representative to the meeting.

CLERK LOANS ZIONCHECK $2 TO WED

ANNAPOLIS, Md., April 29. (AP) Rep. Marion A. Zioncheck of Seattle, Wash., married Miss Ruby Louise Nix here yesterday but only after he had offered to post his watch as security for a $2 loan to get the marriage license.

The congress member, figure in recent clashes with Washington police and courts, finally borrowed the money without having to leave the watch. Rev. Paul R. Diehl married the representative and the pretty 21-year-old Texarkana (Ark.) stenographer a few minutes later in the living room of the Trinity Methodist Episcopal church rectory.

Offered to "Soak" Watch
Laurence L. Merrill, deputy clerk of the court, loaned Zioncheck the money enabling him to carry on with his romance. "He asked me if I would take the watch," Merrill said. "I said that I wouldn't, but that I would let him have the $2. He gave it to Mrs. Goodman (Mrs. Rose Goodman, another deputy clerk) for the license and told me he would see me some time."

Mrs. Goodman had already refused to take the watch as security for the marriage license fee. Born in Poland
"He didn't have $2 to pay for the license," Mrs. Goodman said. "He offered me a watch as security. He said he had a congressional check, but I said I didn't know him."

The representative's application for the license gave his age as 35 years and his occupation as lawyer. He said he was born in Poland.

Robert Walker, in charge of the local office, made this announcement today. He said anyone who has not yet filed returns, or who wishes information, will be welcomed at the office.

PRICE ON KARPIS' HEAD GOES UP

WASHINGTON.—The price on the head of Alvin Karpis went up to $7000 today as the postoffice inspection service disclosed an undercover search for the man now rated as "Public Enemy No. 1." The inspection service offered $2,000 for information resulting in the arrest and conviction of Karpis and another $2000 for information leading to the arrest and conviction of his companion, Harry Campbell.

CREDITOR SEEKS DEBTOR'S FILLINGS

BUFFALO, N. Y.—County Judge George H. Rowe pondered today a creditor's demand for the fillings in a debtor's teeth to satisfy a $242 judgment. Morris Abelson, the creditor, requested a court order for the removal of two diamonds in the front teeth of Robert Ashby, Negro, the debtor. Ashby filed an objection, saying he paid $325 for the sparklers.

TO INSPECT HIGHWAYS

The highway committee of the state chamber of commerce will make an inspection trip through Orange and San Diego counties May 7 and 8. The board of supervisors Tuesday received an invitation from the chamber to be represented on the inspection trip.

MORE PLANS FOR CHAMBER'S MEMBER DRIVE ARE LAID

Additional plans for carrying on the membership campaign of the chamber of commerce were discussed Tuesday at a meeting of the membership committee headed by C. A. Warren. The effort was launched Monday at a meeting of campaign workers in the Green Cat cafe. Thirty teams of two members each will carry on the work.

At yesterday's committee meeting it was emphasized that the chamber of commerce is absolutely necessary. It is important, he said, to have a strong organization because, as emergencies arise, there is no other body which can speak for the community and represent its aspirations and desires. Much more than the cost of the chamber is often saved through one such service in an emergency, Mr. Warren said.

County's First Jail on Sycamore Between Second and Third

(In an effort to acquaint residents of Orange county with some of their most-prized historic possessions, The Journal is publishing a series of daily articles on county landmarks. These articles will describe their location and give historical facts concerning them. Today's article tells about the county's first jail.—Editor.)

Orange county's first jail was located on the east side of Sycamore street between Second and Third streets. It was erected shortly after the county was formed in 1889. It was regarded as only a temporary provision for housing prisoners, although the structure was built of brick. Without the cells, it cost approximately $4000.

The armor history of Orange county recalls that "With the kindest of motives, the jailer was in the habit of leaving the cell doors open so the prisoners could have the range of the entire jail for air and exercise."

Apparently some of the inmates mistook the jailer's motive, or took advantage of his kindness, for the history goes on to say that "Some vagrants picked a hole through the brick wall with a case knife, thereby making their escape." Subsequently a guard was installed in the place and the habit of leaving the cells unlocked was abandoned.

It was from this jail that Francisco Torres was taken by a mob in 1894 and hanged on a nearby telephone pole. Torres

NAB WENDEL KIDNAPING SUSPECT

BROOKLYN, April 29. (AP)—Harry Weiss, 29, Brooklyn taxicab driver, was held in $50,000 bail today on an indictment charging kidnap and assault of Paul H. Wendel, disbarred Trenton attorney, whose "confession" to the Lindbergh kidnaping delayed the execution of Bruno Richard Hauptmann for three days.

Weiss, arrested yesterday in Youngstown, Ohio, was arranged before Kings County Judge George W. Martin after he had appeared in the Manhattan police headquarters lineup and had been questioned by District Attorney William F. X. Geoghan.

His counsel, former Magistrate Joseph Goldstein, asked that low bail be set, but Judge Martin refused.

"I'll make it $50,000 at this time," he said. "It might be wise to keep him in jail at present for his own preservation and health."

Weiss, Geoghan had said earlier, confessed his part in the kidnaping and named Ellis Parker, Jr., son of the famed Burlington county (N. J.) detective chief as the "finger man."

Weiss, the prosecutor said, charged Parker "fingered" Wendel the day he was abducted, helped in the torture by which Wendel's "confession" to the Lindbergh crime supposedly was obtained in a Sheepshead Bay hideout, and supervised writing five Wendel "confessions."

PHONE COMPANY SUES LA HABRA

The southern California Telephone company started suit in superior court yesterday against the city of La Habra to recover $56.87 in taxes paid last month under protest. The company maintains that the assessment of $6630 on its La Habra property was too high. It paid a bill of $80.22.

Cream of Southland Little Theater Talent to Take Part in Play Tourney

Drama Contest Will Start Tomorrow

Little theater enthusiasts of Santa Ana, Huntington Beach and San Bernardino will assemble at 8 o'clock tomorrow evening in the Ebelle auditorium for opening of the tenth annual Southern California tournament of one-act plays, to be concluded Saturday evening.

Huntington Beach Community players, having found it necessary to withdraw their entry, are sending a group of Huntington Beach High school students to substitute for their scheduled play tomorrow night. The pupils will present their entry in the high school tournament in Pasadena, "The Finger of God," by Percival Wilde, directed by Edna Dean Condon. In the cast will be James Gilmore, Ari McCormick, and Marian Reeves. This will be the third play on the program.

Mummers to Play
The second play will be "Dennis-Tasse" by Robert McLaughlin. It will be enacted by the Modern Mummers of San Bernardino, under direction of Eloise Harvey. Those taking roles will be Helen Barandon, Virginia Keller, Carl Wilson and Margaret Eisenhart.

Santa Ana Community players will open the program with a substitute play, not in competition. The players will present "Red Bubble" by Lella Watson, winner in the recent play-writing contest. Gladys Shaffer is directing it, and the members of the cast are Arthur Coleman, Agnes Brady, James Doyle, J. Parley Smith, Gertrude Horn, Chauncey Morgan, Jean Kay, Julia Anne Hyde, Mary Steffensen, James Backman, Joe Yocum and Holmes Bishop.

Harry Hansen, president of the Santa Ana Community players, will greet the visitors.

An all-Russian musical program will be played by the Carillon string trio, composed of Faye Spicer, violin; Rose Marie Flint, viola; and Audrey Pieper, piano, assisted by Mary Steffensen, soprano.

Traditional and modern Russian music will be contributed in two numbers, "Dark Eyes" and the "Heroes' Song." The latter is one of the songs collected by Mrs. Flint during her visit to Russia last summer. It is a marching song of the Soviet army, composed in 1935.

Other compositions will include "Two Guitars," a Russian gypsy song; "The Tear" by Mousorgsky; and "Chant Sans Paroles" by Tchaikowsky. Mrs. Steffensen will sing an old Italian folk song, "Glorimetta," which is particularly suited to the piquancy of her lyric soprano voice.

Late Reception
At the information desk in the Ebelle to greet the visitors tomorrow evening will be Mrs. Alan Revell, Mrs. M. Burr Wellington, and Mrs. J. Parley Smith.

Hostesses at the informal reception after the performance will be Miss Lella Watson, Mrs. J. Parley Smith, Miss Eleanor Crookshank, Mrs. Russell Rowland, Mrs. E. M. Sundquist and Mrs. Wendell Finley. Mrs. M. Burr Wellington and Mrs. Terry Stephenson will preside at the tables. Mrs. Leland Auer is in charge of refreshments for all three receptions and the Saturday afternoon tea.

A Hollywood style designer created something of a furore when he made a statement deprecating scanty bathing suits as cheating girls of their glamor. Mary Stoddard Solution for Religious Differences of Youthful Couple Asked by Girl

Although controversies involving religious differences are not normally discussed in this column, an appealing request for advice from others who have solved similar problems sent in by a young Protestant girl.

Dear Miss Stoddard: It is natural for two people to fall in love when they are young and of age, but there is a cloud around some of them and that is religion. Why must it be so?

This is a free world and we all try to get the best out of life. I am a Protestant while the young man whom I love and who loves me is a Catholic. Why must older people lead younger people in the understanding of religion?

We all have minds of our own, but then some people do not know that I am not against any religion, just natural, because every one has the privilege of being what they want to be, and doing what they think to be the right thing. None of us want to give in, when knowing that one person is right and many are wrong.

Tell me frankly, please, Miss Stoddard, just what your idea on this subject is. I don't want to start any trouble over religion but I've just got to have some sensible, impartial person's viewpoint and also find a way out for both of us. Thanks, IRENE

Here and There With The Journal's
Rambling County Editor

By T. N. (BRICK) GAINES

RALPH McFADDEN's boat ride was the hit of last night's associated chambers of commerce meeting.

Ralph, known as "the biggest man in Orange county," took a personally escorted tour of Newport's $2,000,000 harbor, while other visitors had the associated meeting capered along the banks of the bay, vainly trying to "thumb" a ride on the sightseeing boat.

Somewhere or other there was a mixup in plans for a tour of the harbor. Some thought the boat was to leave at 4 o'clock. Others thought 4:30. Ralph constituted the majority of the members who agreed on the former hour. He arrived on time.

At 4:29 1/2 the boat left Lido Isle, carrying a large welcoming group from Newport, including Mayor Harry Williamson, Harry Welch, chamber of commerce secretary, City Engineer Pat Patterson and many others.

Ralph was the lone passenger. Exactly one-half minute later a crew of prospective sightseers, headed by Bill Gallienne and Sol White, both of Huntington Beach, arrived at the landing. The boat, its full complement of guides and solitary passenger, was gone.

So the group chased the first on the banks of the bay, vainly waving arms and shouting, but apparently the multiple and doubtless inspired instructions and directions of the guides smothered Ralph's cries for help, much less giving him any chance to notice hitch-hikers.

So Ralph and the committee took the trip and the rest of the visitors saw the bay from afoot.

Which was good exercise, anyway!

Better come along on the Coast association's tour into unexplored territory tomorrow!

One hundred pioneers are going to travel into the wilds of inland Southern California tomorrow to educate the natives regarding beauties and advantages of the county's coast. They'll no doubt face terrible dangers from lurking chambers of commerce and ambushing city officials. Roars from hand-to-hand struggles and from terrific back-slapping will probably echo clear to the coast.

This brave band is going to need much protection. As well as co-operation. We'd suggest you come along and help out.

An interesting feature of the trip is that, with the exception of a small amount of rations carried in case of emergencies, the hardy party will attempt to live off the county. Native coffee in Redlands and pink lemonade in Uplands are listed among the food-stuffs the pioneers will attempt to consume while in the trackless waste.

Excitement untold, including narrow escapes from pursuing real estate salesmen and occasional clashes with traffic cops are among things expected on the trip. However, with such a daring leader as Bill Gallienne, the Huntington Beach general of activities, the party is expected to arrive home safely.

They'll leave The Arches at 9 a. m. and pass through Santa Ana shortly afterward. If you're feeling in an adventurous mood, you might take your car or thumb a ride with one of the pioneers!

Hither and thither: Orange is going to whomp it up Friday. Big May day business, mutt parade, baby show, with real babies, bathing girl contest, with real babies, band concerts, 'n everything . . . And tomorrow Howard Hawkins' agriculture students at Valencia High school in Placentia are going to stage their own county fair. Hogs, cows, chickens, rabbits and what have you . . . Benefit in the new packinghouse at Capistrano huge success. Baseball team will have enough money to last season . . . "Oke" Maxwell, demon correspondent from the mission town, back on the job after his honeymoon. "Oke" and family accompanied to San Diego Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Saxe, of the San Clemente Saxes, who were celebrating their wedding anniversary . . . Rumors from San Clemente that there isn't to be any chief of police after Friday. Then's when Chief Tommy Murphy's job runs out, due to action of a re-arranged city council. There'll just be two patrolmen, no chief, we hear . . . Phil Ton, hefty Yorba Lindan, has poem, "The Road to Warners," published in last issue of Butterfield Chronicle. With all county P-T. A.'s holding elections and installations, our head's in a whirl . . . Sometime, if you want to get a thrill, go down to Doheny Park and see the purple flowers on the palisades—looks like a purple waterfall. Worth the trip . . . Almost time for Cinco de Mayo celebrations, when Mexicans celebrate their Fourth of July. It'll be fun . . .

All morning events will take place around the Plaza, and the afternoon events at the high school athletic field. All are free except the ball game at night.

++Laguna's Artists++
Marines, Desert Scenes, Featured by Ida Randall Bolles

(Who isn't interested in residents of the famed Laguna Beach art colony? Known throughout the world as a playground and workshop for the artist, the potter and the sculptor, occupants of the seaside village will be introduced from time to time in The Journal. Today Ida Randall Bolles and her work at Laguna are described.)

By MRS. L. B. SMALLEY

We are not making alphabetical soup out of the Laguna artists. Only arranging them alphabetically so as to bring order out of chaos. Potters will be included. Also sculptors.

More of the well known artists have names beginning with "B." so we begin with Ida Randall Bolles, of the Sea Dreams studio on Coast boulevard. She has lived in Laguna for 15 years and seldom a day has passed when she hasn't dipped her brush in paint.

Ida Randall Bolles drives her own car and when she becomes tired of painting marine views, she travels into the desert and finds a lovely, colorful picture with crimson ocotillas, cacti in bloom, blue skies, golden sand, with long purple shadows.

Mrs. Bolles studied in Chicago, in Washington at the Art Students' league, in New York, Denver, and in Cincinnati with Hopkins and Duvenek. Among her paintings are mountains, missions, still-life studies, and trees, in which she excels.

For a number of years Mrs. Bolles has been an active member of the Laguna Beach Art association. For five years she has held a position on the board of directors. She is art chairman for the Woman's club and was chairman of all Orange county art club activities until three years ago, when her nerves gave warning that she had best desert club activities and paint more pictures. Which she does today.

As the result of an agreement between the Japanese, the Chinese and authorities of the autonomous North China district through railway freight service will be inaugurated between Manchuria and North China.

YACHT CLUBS PLAN HUGE OPENINGS

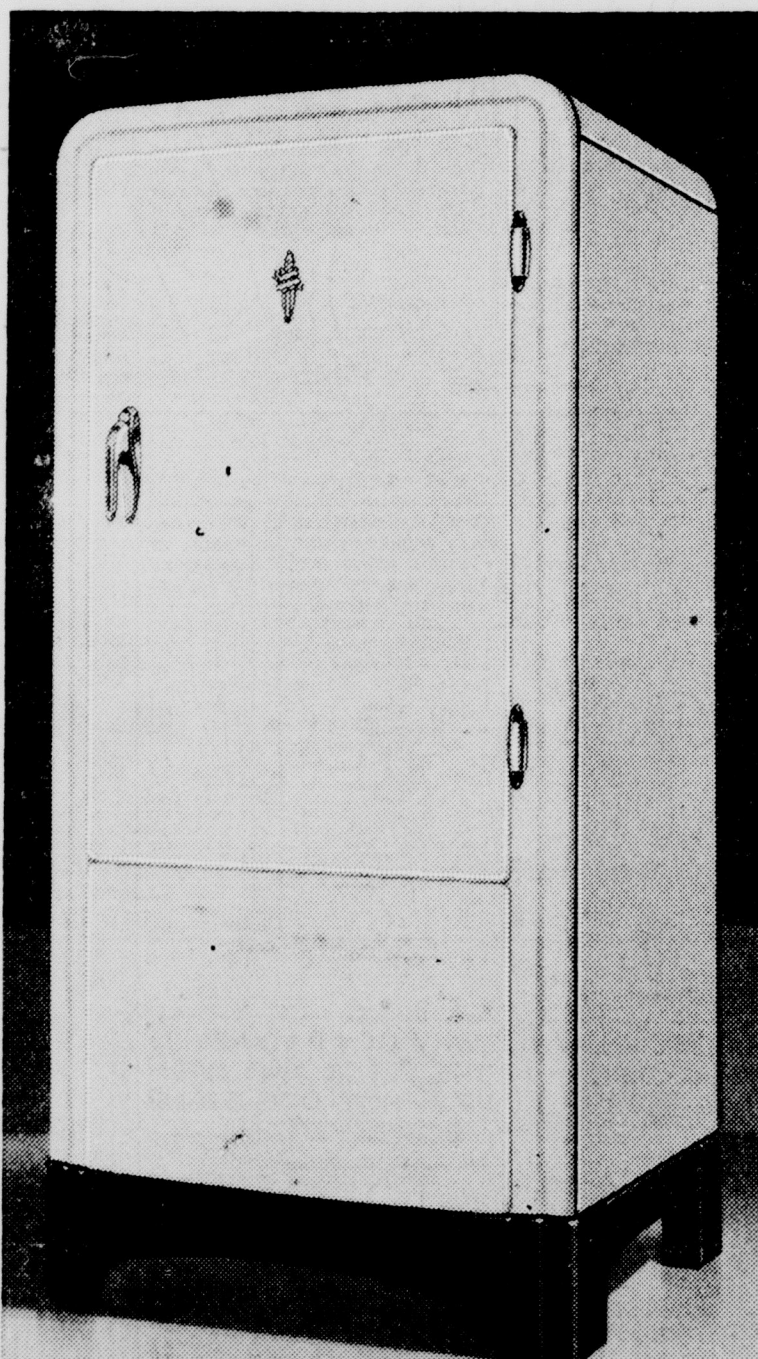

NEWPORT-BALBOA.—Yachting folk from up and down the coast will set sail for this port to participate in two colorful events, both on Saturday, May 16, Commodore Paul F. Johnson said today.

The Balboa Yacht club will celebrate opening of the season of 1936 with a dinner-dance. Newport Harbor Yacht club members will celebrate the club's nineteenth birthday anniversary with a dinner-dance.

Members of the Balboa Yacht club are making numerous changes at the club. The bar is being changed to a "Fishermen's Inn" and the dormitory is also undergoing changes. Extra bunks are being built in for accommodation of guests.

A membership drive recently begun under the leadership of H. F. Batchelor has netted the club 30 new members, it was announced. Dr. Paul S. McKibbin has been elected to the board to replace Walter Corson, resigned.

ELECTROLUX
Gas Refrigerator

The favorite automatic refrigerator of women throughout Southern California, will be used in the model kitchen, on the stage during each day of the cooking school conducted by this newspaper.

We say it is the favorite because for more than two years it has led the field in sales of all automatic refrigerators in this section of the country.

For Electrolux, the gas refrigerator, has all the qualities which thrifty women demand in the refrigerator they buy for their own kitchens.

Economy, unequalled, is one of the important reasons which have made Electrolux the leader in automatic refrigerator sales. The operating cost in the average home is approximately two cents a day—a saving which will go far toward meeting the small payment each month, if you desire to purchase your Electrolux on the easy terms available at local dealers or through the gas company.

Silent in its operation, Electrolux provides dependable, continuous cold and the consequent assured safety of your family's food supply entrusted to its care.

Beautifully finished—inside and outside—Electrolux provides the utmost in attractive appearance, convenience in shelf arrangement and thoughtful placing of storage facilities.

Favorite of modern women, for many reasons, you will see Electrolux in actual use at the cooking school under conditions far more trying than will be found in any ordinary kitchen.

Good Old Homespun

TAXES in America are far too high. The people's money is thrown at the birds by those elected and appointed as stewards of public funds and administrators of public functions.

A lot of other things are wrong with us, too. Our national budget is not balanced. We have a most terrific unemployment problem. We are increasing our national debt.

Prosperity certainly hasn't come all the way around that corner for a lot of us. And also, it doesn't do our case of measles any good just to know that our next neighbor has the smallpox—

But— You hear an occasional caustic remark about how well the British are getting along in comparison to our own state of progress.

Depression's over over there, you hear. Unemployment less in England than it was in 1929. The national budget's being balanced, and all that sort of thing, old top. Would we like a little of the same? We would not!

Bring the British balancing system full-panoplied and set it down in our American midst today, and you'd hear the mightiest wail that has gone up from human throats since Pharaoh lost his non-stop attempt through the Red sea. You'd howl. We'd howl. And how!

For instance, instead of the $400 income tax exemption for each child in the family, you'd get $300 exemption. Married couples would have a basic income tax exemption of $900 instead of $2500. And out of each $1 that came into the family till you'd give Uncle Sam 25 cents. Yes sir!

And on top of that you'd pay a dime tax on every 40-cent pound of coffee you took home—and some other food and necessity taxes in comparison. Want any of it? Neither do we.

Strange how some of those "achievements" in lands far across the seas dazzle us until we cut a pattern of the same materials and try it on our United States of America.

The Fascist coat, the Nazi trousers and the Communist straight-jacket, all cut a la dictatorship on the bias, would all fit Uncle Sam just about equally well.

Just cut out a pattern, mentally, from any of those "materials," fit it to your home, your town, your country, and see how it looks.

You'll find that the good old American homespun suit, though a mite frayed, is a lot more comfortable after all.

And a lot more dependable in our kind of a climate.

The Peace of the Seas

RECENTLY Chairman Walter Parker of the national committee on safety at sea urged that along with the pending senate investigation into the standard ship construction under the Morro Castle and Mohawk resolutions congress investigate all phases of ships' personnel, particularly the relations between labor and management in the marine industry. As Mr. Parker says, safety at sea depends upon more responsible, efficient and, therefore, safer crews.

The contrast between ceaseless strife on the seas and waterfronts and peace in the railroad industry is eloquent of the need of adequate mediatory machinery. Since congress passed the Railway Labor act setting up the National Mediation board 10 years ago there has not been a strike on any American railroad. This year the aviation industry was brought under this act. Is there any reason why the government, which votes shipping companies big subsidies and depends upon them to carry the mails, should be less vitally interested in ordinary labor relations at sea than on land?

A Free Press

IT SEEMS that a group of newspaper publishers in convention back East are afraid of an attempt to muzzle the press. The freedom of the press is endangered, they say, by the federal communications commission which has virtual control of telephone and telegraph wires.

Maybe so, but the greatest danger of the American press is the American press itself.

The iron hand of dictatorship has clamped down on the newspaper of many European countries, and it is only right that American newspapers fight any hint of such action this side of the big pond.

But there are more American newspapers "sold out" of their own volition to business interests and political interests than will ever be brought under the heel of a tyrant at Washington.

The freedom of the Press becomes a hollow catchphrase in many American newspaper offices dominated by money and politics.

A Cheery Sign

THERE is evidence of better times in the news that men are quitting Orange county's WPA rolls to go back into private employment. On May 1, a total of 50 men go off relief here because they have found jobs.

That is a healthy sign. Your real American citizen abhors the thought of relief except in case of necessity. What he wants is work, with an opportunity to earn a decent living for himself and his family.

It is through such gradual absorption of men into industry that what is left of the depression will be ended. There will not be a certain day on which something happens which greatly increases prosperity; rather, there will be a process which will bring real recovery slowly but surely.

When men who want jobs can find them, it's certain we are on our way!

Whimsies of O. O. McIntyre

Students of athletic calm and poise declare the greatest exponent of these qualities is the 18-year-old New York school girl, Ruth Aaron. She was the recent winner of the national championship in her first table tennis (ping-pong) tournament without losing a set.

Miss Aaron is the daughter of a theatrical man and entered the play at Prague for the world title and won easily. No American has ever reached the final rounds as Europeans, especially Hungarians, have long dominated. A crowd that would have filled the Garden looked on starkly amazed.

The girl, who weighs 100 pounds, plays in long trousers and a ping-pong ball with the speed of a bullet and always smiles as though having heaps of fun. Though a masterful defensive player, she is a relentless attacker and when she "lays one away" her opponent makes no effort to return the shot.

In winning the title in the first attempt she overcame the hazards that seemed insurmountable. It was her first trip abroad and she went alone into a country where ping-pongists are supreme. And her debut was before 10,000 aliens. She was as cool as ice.

Upton Sinclair, next perhaps to Gil Patten of Frank Merriwell fame, was in his formative days one of the prolific nickel novelists. Under the pen name of Ensign Clark Fitch, U. S. N., he recounted weekly the heroic adventures of Cliff Farraday for the True Blue Library. He occupied a top floor bedroom in the West 20's and was a student at the College of the City of New York. He was paid $40 an installment, which gave him more spending money than any person attending his school.

A spy in Denver reveals that Damon Alfred Runyon—or maybe it was Alfred Damon—was a daily avenger of a carnation in the whippersnapper days when his journalistic pinfeathers were sprouting. So much so he was known on his reportorial beat as "Carnation Al." He also carried, as did most reporters in that wild and woolly era, a six-shooter. So says the informant.

Two of New York's liveliest bon vivants are the Missouri born Brothers McCrory, Sam and Will, who haberdash largely to the stage, screen and literary crowd who like their cravats lustrous and collars wild. Silver haired, edging 60 and snappy clothes conscious, they make luncheon a daily event in the showy cafes of midtown. And are usually ring siders at the fights, hockey games and other sporting events. Bachelors, they carry on the credo of a yesteryear Broadway—the whooping, story telling era of the extravagant Miners, Diamond Jim, Paul Armsstrong and unforgettable Tad. They are among the last of the thinning valiants who gave enthusiasm to trivia and made the Roaring Forties more than a borrowed nautical term.

Gus Edwards, who gave vaudeville a penitentiary stars, has been trying to apply the pulmotor to that impoverished amusement. There was a time when there were a half dozen Gus Edwards acts touring the circuits. A roster of his grown up baby stars reads like a "Who's Who" of Hollywood and the radio. Gus, who looks little changed from 30 years ago, can go on at any benefit and become a show stopper, just singing "School Days," one of his many hits. He lives at the Astor, parades the Rialto with a Dockstader minstrel swagger and believes firmly that the two-day will again come into its own. A noble dream that is not likely to be realized in this generation.

Sudden thought: Breathes there a man with soul so dead who, upon hearing some ragged tyke play a mouth organ skillfully, does not sigh: "I wish I could do that?"

Bill Corum has joined the broadcasting newspapermen along with becoming, in the space of a few years, one of the entertaining sports writers. He can give the latest news of Dizzy Dean with a philosophically humorous twist worthy of Swift. He is also probably the only A-1 newspaperman in the world without a telephone in his home. And the first Brumel to sport an all black shirt and collar with a white crepe tie.

Royal Brown, one of literature's totally deafened, tells of two Englishmen, both strangers and deaf, on a train. No. 1: "Pardon, but can this next station be Wembley?" No. 2: "I think it's Thursday." No. 1: "So am I. Shall we go to the club car for a Scotch and soda?" (Copyright, 1936)

AMARILLO, Texas, (AP)—Catholic Bishop Robert Lucey of the Amarillo Diocese has received notice from Rome that Pope Pius XI has conferred the rank of countess upon Mrs. Katherine E. Price of Greenwich, Conn., founder of Price Memorial college here and prominent philanthropist.

EVERYDAY MOVIES

By Denys Wortman

"We'll really have to buy a clock. When it rains like this I can't tell when the eggs are done because I can't make out the time by that clock on the tower."

The Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON, April 29.—GOPHITler re-occupied the Rhineland, the Japanese naval attack in Washington, Capt. Tamen Yamaguchi, jokingly asked Allied diplomats: "Is France going to make war on Germany when Hitler invades the Rhineland on Saturday (March 7)?"

The question was treated as a joke. But on March 7 Hitler occupied the Rhineland.

LESSON IN FINANCE
Fiscal experts—both Wall street bankers and administration authorities—have just had a pointed lesson in finance.

For months the bankers have been demanding that the government act to force a reduction of excess bank reserves. Such a tightening up of money would stiffen interest rates—which the bankers regard as far too low.

The administration, however, has hesitated to act for fear that the curtailment of excess reserves would cause interest rates to jump, and thereby retard business recovery.

Last month, while the two sides debated more hotly than ever, bank reserves quietly decreased by themselves to the extent of nearly $1,000,000,000. The reduction was a normal consequence of the treasury's heavy quarterly financing, and of withdrawals for income tax payments. This removed funds from member banks of the Federal Reserve system and thus cut down the excess reserves.

The unnoticed development has had no effect on interest rates. They have not changed. And as a result government experts now lean to the banker view that it would be no harm to invoke Federal Reserve board powers to limit excess reserves.

CLEVELAND CONVENTION
A scarcity of hotel accommodations during the Cleveland convention is giving the Republican national committee almost more headaches than the job of selecting a candidate.

Some time ago the national committee turned the problem over to a local convention housing committee. But ever since, irate party leaders, delegates and newspapermen have been storming national headquarters with cries of anguish and complaint over the subsequent chaos.

State delegations and newspaper staffs are being scattered among several or more hotels. Nationality know newsmen are being stuck into third-rate hostilities or on to lake steamers. And a prominent eastern publisher discovered that reservations for himself and staff had been covertly shunted from a leading hotel to a rooming house.

National committee officials, privately, are placing much of the blame on Representative Chester C. Bolton, Cleveland Republican leader, who first tried to handle the reservations himself. After everything was in a muddle, he passed the buck to the housing committee.

Hitler is expected to move in through his Austrian Nazi legions. And although dates are extremely hazy in making international predictions, the date given by some diplomats is June.

Regardless of the date, Nazification of Austria is considered inevitable. When it comes, it means that the French, the Little Entente and Mussolini will definitely have to decide whether they will move against Hitler or give him all he wants in south central Europe.

DIPLOMATIC DATES

Only nation which appears to be in the know regarding Germany's dates is Japan—whose seems to be definite confirmation of reports that the two countries have a hard-and-fast alliance against Russia.

The new Santa Ana city council met last night, and after some heated discussion agreed upon the following appointments: Street superintendent, W. C. Young; board of health, E. A. Stockslager, A. E. Koepsel, Dr. H. S. Gordon, M. R. Heninger and Joseph Backs; park commissioners, G. W. Minter, Fred Raftery, W. L. Tubbs, H. Diers and Frank Ey; drivers fire wagon, Monte Jackson and J. A. TUSTIN.—The Tustin "Y," numbering about 25, went over to Orange Thursday night on a hayride to attend the media contest, and while enjoying the ride over the trip home was indeed joyful, as one of their number, Miss Jessie Rawlings, carried away the gold medal and was given the seat of honor by the driver on the homeward trip.

The Art Study club had a very interesting meeting with Mrs. George Smith on French street Thursday evening. At the business meeting, the following delegates and alternates were elected to the state federation convention at Long Beach: Mrs. A. J. Lawton, Mrs. A. J. Padgham and Miss A. Wells.

Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Yarnell entertained last evening with a very charming function in honor of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Porter. Covers guests and Messrs. and Mesdames H. D. Connell, P. S. Roper, W. A. Huff and O. K. Forgy.

One Man's Opinion

By Duncan Ellisworth Clark

EDITOR'S NOTE—Here is an informative, analytical daily feature on current topics. The opinions expressed in this column are not necessarily the same as those held by The Journal.

Our Public Schools—the Foundation of America

PUBLIC Schools week is here again. Throughout this broad land attention centers on the world's most social enterprise. Nowhere, at no time, has any other people undertaken a project of such magnitude, bearing within itself such potential power, and holding high such rich promises of abundant returns. America stands for many ideals. Oppressed peoples everywhere have looked to it as man's fairest promise of ultimate good. Equality, justice and righteousness thrill men's souls now as always. While the rainbow colors escape our grasp they never fail to lure us forward.

The very foundation stone of the whole American structure is the eternal hope of reaching full personal development. This is the essence of democracy, the springs from whence our national greatness flows. And the means for such attainment reside in the heart-throbs of free public education. Equality means nothing if not the opportunity to unfold one's life to the greatest extent; to enjoy unchecked, physical, mental and spiritual growth; to find answer to the God-given yearnings in his soul.

And this very personal and intimate development is the peculiar function and purpose of our educational project. The vicissitudes of life, the varied chance of birth

What Other Editors Say

RANDOM OBSERVATIONS ON AN EASTERN TRIP

(Ventura County Star)

Fully 50 men, each in a reasonably good position to hold an authoritative opinion, were asked on this swing around the circle how they respectively believed the presidential election would result next fall.

The question was asked of editors, Republican and Democratic, congressmen, Washington correspondents, press association executives. In every single case, the answer was Roosevelt to win. Had some of the same men been asked the same question before the Illinois and Nebraska primaries no doubt the answer would have been different, but after the figures from those elections reached Washington the staunchest of Republican editors would begin, "Well, I'm afraid—"

It is being recalled that Mr. Farley three months ago predicted a bigger popular vote and a bigger electoral vote for Roosevelt in 1936 than he received in 1932. Republicans are beginning to wonder if, conceivably, he is right again.

Trogonically, most observers date the beginning of the present surge back toward the New Deal from the hour of Al Smith's Liberty league dinner speech attacking Roosevelt.

MORE JOBS

(San Francisco News)
"Since March 10," says Frank Y. McLaughlin, state WPA administrator, "it has been unnecessary to effect any involuntary separations, because enough persons have left of their own accord to hold the quota within limits. The required rate of reduction is 10,000 a month."

That means unemployment is lessening in California at a fairly rapid rate. Mr. McLaughlin said further that a questionnaire submitted to the Associated General Contractors of Northern California shows no skilled labor available in Alameda county, Fresno, Stockton, Sacramento, San Mateo, Palo Alto, San Jose, Watsonville, and the Monterey Peninsula which private employers are unable to absorb.

Because of this shortage of skilled labor, 98 projects have been suspended or have not been undertaken. The state's combined WPA and SRA load now totals only 185,000 men and women, or approximately eight million a month compared to more than 10 million six months ago.

California seems on its way to real recovery.

LOWER SANTA ANA GETS VAST FEDERAL ASSISTANCE

(Redlands Facts)

The senate commerce committee has approved a great flood relief and storage plan, which includes 13 million dollars for the dam projects on the lower Santa Ana river. This is contingent upon local contribution amounting to three and a half millions. The idea of building storage and conservation projects at or near the source of the river is conspicuously absent. The Lord has the help of those who pull the political strings.

Remarkable Remarks

Bullfighting is a very nice profession for a girl. It's like love; you never know how it's going to turn out—Portia Portar, girl torador.

We must not rob employed Peter to benefit jobless Paul—H. L. Lurie, American Association of Social Workers, attacking social security act.

I've been mistaken for many persons, seldom myself.—Amelia Earhart.

Skinny Skribbles

Around and About Town

With C. F. SKIRVIN

Received an invitation to attend a tax meeting. Say, my trouble has been avoiding tax meetings. As the situation now stands I have to meet the tax collector, the tax assessor, the interior and the exterior collector, the processing tax, the excise tax, and the home sweet home tax, gas, sales, and others too numerous to mention, or even agreeable for reference. There are in the United States about 170,000 individual taxing units which are authorized under the respective state constitutions and legislative enactments. In other words: How shall we escape such great tribulations? My friend Ben Tarver would say the single tax, and some of my other friends would say something else. Like the poor, the tax we have with us always.

An old timer asked me about rain. Can you imagine that? There was only one answer from my meteorological storehouse. To wait until the weather forecaster predicted no rain. It's the best bet that we will get it.

One of those city notices to "Destroy Weeds," resting at the intersection of Sixth and Bush streets. I am sure it was not an official placement, but if there is any section in the world where weeds will grow through cement it's in Southern California. I've got a curb which Bermuda grass conquers about every 30 days. I recall a prophecy made by an illustrious citizen that grass would grow in the streets under certain conditions, and sometimes wonder if the forecast is being fulfilled.

Today, tomorrow and May 1. The Journal cooking school will be in session forenoon 9:30 to 11:30 at the West Coast Theater. I would attend but remember long ago that a good friend of mine said that I made a d— poor advertisement for a lunch counter. So I'll send Leo Fris as a substitute. Boy, then the management can point with pride.

Santa Ana will soon be half a century old as an incorporated city. This is merely mentioned "lest we forget" to celebrate the event, as the way the mirror reflects now is that we are likely to forget.

Walt Young comes through with some sympathetic testimony. When I reply to an inquiry and start to tell him that a stomach disorder had troubled me for a few weeks he turned in his experience and how he recovered by following a dietetic course which had been forbidden. But I do recall that there have been occasions in human experience where forbidden fruit got a lot of people in trouble. I am glad that Walt escaped, and up to now they haven't caught me.

Noon meeting of the four horsemen—Daddy Travis, Si, Fluor, Bill Majors and the other "old man" recording the minutes herewith. Under the head "good of the order" Majors suggested to Si that we dispense with the recording secretary and do you know that Si was willing? However, before he could get home and back with the weapons the "victim" had disappeared and he isn't going to reappear.

If you want to see what can happen to you visit the wrecking mortuary some week-end, and view the remains of what was once a swell car. If you are not satisfied you may continue the inspection by visiting a hospital or a morgue and view the human element which was either directly or indirectly responsible for the accident. Then if you reason from cause to effect you may also determine that you will not be the cause, nor the effect either if careful driving will prevent it. An object lesson is often more valuable than a sermon.

The trouble with parking space is there's not enough of it.

For a number of years Denver Doll has carried on the windshield of his car a sticker reading: "Federal Agent." But that isn't all. There is a small insert between "Federal" and "Agent" which reads "Tire." Now that changes the complexion of the sticker, and relieves the fear which just naturally takes possession of a citizen when he approaches anything that comes within federal jurisdiction, and what doesn't? When Mr. Average Citizen notices the sticker "Federal Agent" he immediately starts to wonder what the government has in mind, and if your conduct hasn't synchronized with the regulations you get uneasy and start to wonder what the government has in mind for you. It doesn't matter whether you can read your title clear to mansions in the sky or meet any man and tell him to go elsewhere. There is just something about the situation which puts the fear of God and government in your heart. Truth is that sign for a long time caused me some uneasiness until I noticed the word "Tire." The explanation of the whole matter is that Denver was the Federal Tire Agent in Santa Ana for a number of years. So now you can get your breath at regular intervals.
